—Judge Mesick is in the city.
—The Catholic Fair is the next event.

—Judge Hakes, Supreme Judge of Mono, is in the city.

—FOR SALE—The residence now occupied by Mr. Preble and family. Inquire at residence.

—The tax dodgers are anxious to repeal the Act providing for the publication of the tax roll.

—The fish planting bill was an excellent measure and ought to have passed. Its provisions, however, were sadly misunderstood.

—It is reported that Mr. John Mack, Carson's tragedian, has accepted a permanent position in a well known dramatic company, and will shortly join the same.—Journal.

—We do not sound a needless alarm when we tell you that the taint of scrofula is in your blood. Inherited or acquired, it is there, and Ayer's Sarsaparilla alone will effectually eradicate it.

—The remains of Mrs. Dora Spencer have been removed to San Francisco to be placed beside her mother. The regret in Carson is universal, that with her, "youth's sweet-scented manuscript" should close so soon.

—In the drawing of the Louisiana Lottery 73,987 drew the capital prize; 45,151, the second prize; 86,267, third prize; 99,460, fourth prize; 19,118, fifth prize; 63,828, sixth prize; 79,392, seventh prize; and 671, eighth prize.

—A San Francisco crank is charged with attempting to kill Patti with a bomb. He was excited over purchasing an orchestra chair, 2nd row, for $20 on the street and then finding himself put up in the 24th row of the topmost gallery. Under those circumstances he should be leniently dealt with.

—Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer imparts a fine gloss and freshness to the hair, and is highly recommended by physicians, clergymen, and scientists, as a preparation accomplishing wonderful results. It is a certain remedy for removing dandruff, making the scalp white and clean, and restoring gray hair to its youthful color.

—Mme. Modjeska, the distinguished actress, has visited California professionally on two or three occasions. She availed herself of the opportunities offered to become acquainted with the many inducements it offers to home seekers for a permanent residence, and is satisfied to end her days there. She announces her intention, after following the stage for another year, to settle down in some part of Southern California. Her husband wishes her to retire into private life, and seconds her choice of a future home.

Enforce the Act.

The last Legislature appropriated $2,500 for the purpose of building a fire proof vault for the safe keeping of the records of the State Land Office and those of the Secretary of State. The Governor, Controller and Treasurer were appointed as a Board to see that the vault be built and were instructed to make a report of their action to this Legislature. The vault has not been built neither has any report been made by the Board. A resolution should be introduced into the Legislature asking for a report from this Board.—Journal.

It might be a good idea to attach a penalty to the law this time and enforce collection if the law is not respected. As the appropriation was only made for the last two years it will require a new Act.

Notice.

By the request of members of the Legislature and other parties, the Episcopal ladies will give another of their pleasant socials next week, of which due notice will be given.

—Surveyor General Hammond, of California, says that in his opinion the passage of the bill reported to the House of Representatives, to abolish the offices of Surveyor General and to turn over their records to the Commissioner of the General Land Office on the 1st of July, 1888, would prove a bar to mining patents, which would be delayed like all the other business referred to the General Land office at Washington.

—The correspondent of the Virginia Chronicle now in this city, finding that the English language lacks the copiousness of expression which is necessary for a man of his large range of thought, has begun to forage on other languages. His latest addition to the Latin is the expression notens voluens. It is occasionally allowable to coin new words in English but when a language is once dead the poils are closed.

—A petition has been presented to the London newspapers, beseeching them to suppress in whole or in part the testimony in English divorce scandals. This request is made on the grounds of morality. As it is quite numerously signed by the aristocracy, however, it is probable that they take the same interest in it that a petty criminal would in having his name kept out of the Police Court records.

A NEEDED BILL.

Which Will Give the Ladies a Chance.

It frequently happens that the ladies wish to drop in on the House or Senate and see how legislation is going. Most of the ladies have favorites on the floor whom they like to hear orate on fish and railroad bills. Many of the fair sex, however, are debarred of the privilege of witnessing these scenes advantageously because they are obliged to go on the floor of the House or Senate and take their chances finding a seat. This is, of course, very inconvenient to the ladies and the sudden appearance in the midst of the Honorable body of a bevy of charming women is apt to upset the equilibrium of the younger members of the Legislature. Even older men like Clapp, McConnell and Harris are visibly affected. Now the APPEAL would suggest the introduction of a bill appropriating $500 for the building of convenient stair ways from the ante rooms of the House and Senate to the galleries, so that the ladies could reach the galleries without being obliged to push in through a crowd of men in order to climb a narrow and steep stairway. Such a bill would pass unanimously and be considered by the fair sex as almost equivalent to giving them the privileges of the ballot box. This article is written at the suggestion of a number of ladies who like to see what is going on but whose modesty keeps them off the floor of the respective Houses. A C. Cleveland of White Pine has taken a contract to lobby the bill through if it is introduced.

Carson's Most Prominent Citizen.

Omaha Dame—If you are from Carson, Mr. Lank, I should like to ask you what is, to me, a most important question relative to the standing of Mr. Blank in your city. I will say frankly that while he was visiting in Omaha my daughter became deeply interested in him.

Omaha Man—You could not have applied to a better authority than me. I know young Blank like a book. He's today the greatest man in Carson.

"How thankful I am to hear that!"

"Yes, indeed, mam. It ain't a week since the citizens serenaded him with a brass band."

"Well, I am very, very greatly relieved. What was the occasion?"

"It was the night he broke two faro banks, mam."—Omaha World.

A Prospective Sword Contest.

Jaegerine, the wonderful swordswoman, has again bested her man in San Francisco, and so far no swordsman in the country has been able to reach her with a yard of cold steel. San Francisco experts say that the only man in America who could stand any show with her on horseback is Gen. Agramonte of Salt Lake who twice defeated Duncan Ross. If he could be induced to enter the match it would prove a big event in the annals of swordsmanship. The only thing that could beat Agramonte would be his natural gallantry or horror of beating a handsome woman at anything.

A Just Bill.

It is reported that Controller Hallock is arguing with the Judiciary Committee against Pike's insurance bill, which passed the Assembly by a vote of 39 to 1. The bill compels insurance companies to pay full value on all total losses. We fail to see how Controller Hallock by this course is helping the people of the State.

Daring Robbery.

Last Tuesday evening at Reno B. S. Southern, agent for Wells, Fargo & Co., was knocked down by masked men, gagged and tied to the safe while the office drawers were robbed of $400. There is no clew to the robbers.

A Good Appointment.

Yesterday Governor Stevenson appointed C. S. Young as Nevada's Land Agent at Washington. This is an excellent appointment and places a man in Washington with tact and experience and who will look after the land interests of the State carefully and zealously.

Masonic.

There will be work in the mark degree at Masonic Hall this evening. Visiting brothers cordially invited to be present.
